*For proper operation, SOS requires adequate cellular coverage. Poor cellular coverage may result in the inability to place a call, automatically detect a fall, and/or properly locate you automatically during an emergency. Always check for known coverage limitations. SOS is not a replacement for regular contact with emergency responders or access to an alternative means of placing an emergency call. As with all location-based services, it may not always be possible to determine your location. Multi-level buildings, parking garages, and even dense urban areas can make it difficult for satellites and cell phone towers to locate your exact location. In an emergency, please provide your response team with as much information as possible about your location.

Why You Need S.O.S. Companion from Emergency Response USA

Better than a cell phone: When you call 911 on a cell phone, the operators do not have information about where you are located like they do when you dial 911 from your home landline. The operator must waste valuable time asking you questions to gather this information. And you must be able to give detailed location information to the operator. If there is any miscommunication, the closest help may not be coming – wasting more valuable time. Would you bet your life that you could do this during the height of an emergency event?

Calling for help using S.O.S. Companion Help Button will connect you to our emergency operators. With a single button press your location is sent to our operators and displayed on a map on their computer screen. They will speak to you through the mobile device and you can speak to them to let them know the situation. Even if you can't speak, or your companion is flustered and can't communicate clear information for you, our operator can see where you are on the map and will send the closest paramedics to your location.

Freedom: You can maintain your independence and lifestyle. The S.O.S. Companion button travels anywhere you do.

Peace of Mind: You and your loved ones can rest easy knowing Emergency Response USA is with you at all times at home or away.

Security: If you need help or feel uncomfortable with your surroundings we will stay on the line with you until help arrives or you are secure.

We'll have your information ready: Our Operators will immediately know who you are, where you are and exactly who to send to help you.

Cell phone 911 operators do not know who you are. Trying to gather personal information during an emergency call wastes valuable time. Not only do they not know who you are, they don't know anything about you. They don't know your age, your drug allergies, medical conditions or your family's contact information.

The S.O.S. Companion emergency operators know who you are and will tell first responders important information about you. The paramedics will arrive on the scene knowing who you are, any drug allergies or conditions such as diabetes.

In the time that a cell phone 911 operator spends gathering personal information, a S.O.S. Companion operator will have contacted the closest available paramedics and will have already explained this information to them. Help will be on the way to your location and they will be prepared with your personal health information. Once help is secured, our operators will contact your family.

S.O.S. Companion does it all in a single button press, no talking necessary. Help will be on the way and your call list will be informed.
